SATURDAY
APRIL 30, 2016

The Eighth Annual BOCO Traditional Music Festival is April 30, 2016. A fun day and evening of traditional music returns to downtown Washington, the Turnage Theater and the Washington Waterfront. This exciting festival features performances by Beaufort County Traditional Music members and invited musicians, traditional music jams, and an evening show by headliners After Jack. The festival is free and fun for the entire family.

7:00 pm on the Turnage Stage
Free Admission

After Jack is a musical celebration of togetherness. Named 2014 Americana Vocal Group of the Year by the Appalachian Cultural Music Association, the trio couples a modern sensibility with distinctly old-time energy to blend bluegrass, gospel and folk elements. Combine your most beloved musical memories with a foot-stomping string band, and top it off with harmonies that spring straight from the soul of the mountains, and you've got After Jack.

ANN MEADOWS

Ann Meadows is a singer, songwriter, guitarist, and percussionist whose musical range encompasses blues, folk, rhythm and blues, pop, and country-rock. Her writing is musically intriguing as well as faith-based and offers traditional family values. As an Americana artist, Ann has captured the true essence of roots songwriting, performing, and style. She has recently played in Gasburg, Va, Lake Gaston, NC, and Carrboro, NC. She will play BOCO Music Festival in Washington, NC on April 30th and Sweet Tater's Brewery, Rocky Mount, NC.

FLAT MOUNTAIN DULCIMERS

Flat Mountain Dulcimers are Nancy Galambush, Dave Roberson and Margit Roberson. The band has been playing together since 2005. They have played at county fairs and coffee houses around North Carolina as well as various dulcimer festivals. They have also played for the Smithsonian Traveling Roots Music exhibit. They most recently played at the Old Front Porch Music Festival in Oriental, NC. Nancy and Margit also teach beginning dulcimer.

This Beaufort County band loves to play classic bluegrass and vintage rock and roll. Lonesome Creek Band volunteers two nights a month at the local nursing homes to provide entertainment to the residents. The band also plays at Riverside Campground and festivals and events as requested. The band is composed of Wendy Wallace, Sidney and Delores Moore, and Don Skinner.

LONESOME CREEK BAND

Still Water all sing and pick songs that they each like, which gives them pretty good variety of bluegrass, modern bluegrass, and old traditional county. They are composed of Wendy Wallace on bass, Donnie Moore on banjo, Jay Moore on mandolin, and Bobby Moore on guitar. Their last gig was at Riverside Camp Ground last November. They do a 90 minute set at Ridgewood nursing home each month. They are looking forward to playing a lot of music this year. They will play for the BOCO Traditional Music Festival in April, the Red Barn Festival May 7th at Aulander, NC, Riverside Camp Ground May 21 in Ponzer, (near Belhaven), and the Peanut festival in Fountain, NC in late August.

STILL WATER BAND

The Skinner Family Trio plays light jazz and blues tunes. The trio also does gospel music for churches. Don has been active in bands his entire life and enjoys all kinds of music. Judy has been active in singing since she was old enough to walk. She was raised singing in church and has a natural gift for harmony. Jesse Skinner is Don's 15 year old son. Jesse plays mandolin, bass, acoustic, and electric guitar and has been playing since he was 8 years old. He played bass in his middle school jazz band for 3 years. He is currently playing bass and guitar in the Skinner Family Trio.

SKINNER FAMILY TRIO

The Flatland Zingers are traditional musicians that enjoy entertaining folks by performing lively acoustic string-band music and having FUN! Based in Washington, NC, the Zingers met through their involvement in the BCTMA (Beaufort County Traditional Music Association) and began playing as a group in 2013. The Flatland Zingers' appearance is old-timey rural, their sound is Appalachian earthy, and their performances are good-time fun. Band members include Linda Boyer, Rob Cuthrell, and Eric Holmes, along with special guests. They have recently played the Fall Tar Landing Jam, and the Edenton Coffee House. They will play GullFest at Beaufort County Community College on April 9.

THE FLATLAND ZINGERS

The Dry Creek Band plays traditional bluegrass and bluegrass gospel. Band members are: Roger Manning, guitar and vocals; Simon Perry, mandolin and vocals; Stuart Spruill, banjo and vocals; and Celia Knox, bass. The band has played together since 2005. They have played at churches, civic club functions, private parties, festivals, Relay for Life events, Lenior Community College in Kinston, Music in the Streets and The Union Alley Coffee House in Washington.

MARYE AMANDA MCDANIEL

Marye Amanda McDaniel recently performed in the BCTMA Youth Talent Showcase. Marye Amanda is a singer/songwriter who plays the guitar, ukulele, piano, and flute. She is 16 and also enjoys dancing and acting.

Rebekah Ward is a full time student at East Carolina University and currently lives in Chocowinity. Her love for music started very early. She has been singing her whole life. She began her songwriting journey when she was given a guitar at age 15. Along with singing and guitar, she also plays the piano and ukulele. She enjoys all genres of music, but her favorite is alternative.

REBEKAH WARD

Sydney Moore recently performed in the BCTMA Youth Talent Showcase. She is 16 and attends Beaufort County early college High School. Sydney plays guitar and sings in a contemporary Christian youth band (Refuge from the Edge) with 2nd Baptist Church in Washington.

SYDNEY MOORE

BOB DAW

Bob goes by the logo “One Man, One Guitar” and has been playing music his whole life. At any time, Bob can entertain an audience with over two hundred stage-ready songs. Bob especially enjoys singing and playing old pop and old traditional country songs and some of his original tunes, too. He lives at Blounts Creek.

NOW & THEN

Terry & Debbie Davis are a husband & wife duo. They label themselves as Americana, since they do a mixture of genres in their own style. They both have played bluegrass for years, so there is a reflection of those roots in many of their songs. Some of their usual venues include; Blackbeard’s Restaurant/Sneads Ferry NC, Trent River Coffee Co, Irish Pirate/Emerald Isle NC, Floyds 1921 Restaurant/Morehead City NC, and The Boathouse/Beaufort NC.
